Fast Processing

Most in-stock orders placed before 4:00 p.m. CST ship the same business day (Monday–Friday). You'll receive a tracking number by email so you can follow your package every step of the way.

Delivery Estimates

Use the UPS Ground or FedEx Ground service map to estimate delivery times. Please note these are business days and not guaranteed delivery dates. If you need expedited shipping, contact us for options and rates.

Important Notes

While we work hard to ensure on-time delivery, delays can occur due to circumstances outside our control or the carrier's control, such as:

- Weather conditions
- Natural disasters
- Customs or government regulations
- Strikes, labor disputes, or civil commotions
- Transportation or communication network failures
- Carrier "mis-sort" errors

Once a package has left our facilities, it is the responsibility of the shipping carrier as they are a separate business from our own.

TRACKING YOUR PACKAGE

To find your tracking number, login to your account online. If you do not have an email, please feel free to call or text us the following morning for a tracking number.

To track your package, visit www.ups.com or www.fedex.com and enter your tracking number in the appropriate field.

You can also call UPS at 1 (800) 742-5877 or FedEx at 1 (800) 463-3339 and follow the prompts.

We highly recommend signing up for UPS MyChoice and FedEx Delivery Manager to better manage your deliveries.

TIME-IN-TRANSIT MAPS

Time-in-Transit Maps are a representation of typical transit times.
These estimates are not guaranteed.

Return Instructions

Refunds

After receiving your return and upon inspection, we will process your refund or credit. Please allow at least five(5) business days from the receipt of your item to process your return. Refunds typically take 3-10 days to appear in your bank account or credit card account. Times vary from different financial institutions.

Damaged Packages

Upon delivery of your order, immediately inspect your package for damage. If the outer packaging is damaged in any way, please take photos before opening the package.

After taking photos, you may open the package to inspect the order. If the order was damaged, please submit the photos of the packaging as well as photos of the damaged products to us via email or text message and give us a call to let us know what happened so we can replace any goods that may need replacing.

Non-Damaged Packages

If your package was not damaged, please proceed with opening your package and inspecting your order.

1. Ensure that you received your entire order.
2. Inspect all goods to ensure you received the correct amount, color, and that nothing is flawed or damaged.

If something is missing from your package, please call us so we can send out the missing products if necessary.

If something is damaged, please take photos and submit them via text message or email with your order details and a description of damage.

If you received an incorrect material or color, please take photos of the material next to the sample you were using to order with and submit them via text message or email. We will inspect our inventory here and provide solutions where necessary. Please note, if you were not using a physical sample to order by and were instead matching off of the pictures on the website, this may cause color discrepancies. We highly recommend ordering samples before purchasing your materials.

Compressed or Folded Goods

Due to the nature of our shipping policy, it is necessary to vacuum, compress, or fold certain materials to offer you the best deal on shipping. These items must be opened and unfolded immediately upon delivery in order for the product to return to a usable state.

- All sew foam, cotton, and cushion wrap must be opened and allowed 24 hours to fully decompress.
- All polyfoam must be unrolled immediately and allowed 24 hours to fully decompress.
- All carpets and flooring must be unrolled and unfolded immediately to prevent damages and irreversible wrinkling.

CUT FOAM

All cut foam is priced by the boardfoot.

To calculate the boardfeet, multiply length x width x height then divide by 144.

For example, to calculate the boardfeet on a piece measuring 2" x 24" x 36"

You would multiply 2 x 24 x 36 to get 1,728.

You would then divide 1,728 by 144 to get 12 boardfeet.

Density

Density reflects the weight of the foam which impacts its quality and lifespan. Density does not impact the foam's firmness. A foam's density, measured by weighing a 12" x 12" x 12" piece. For instance, a foam with a 2.0lb density means that a 12" cube of the foam weighs 2.0lbs.

Compression

Compression measures how firm the foam feels. It's determined by applying pressure to a 15" x 15" x 4" foam sample with a 50 sq. in. circular indenter. If the foam takes 50 pounds of pressure to compress 1 inch (or 25% of its thickness), it has a 50lb compression rating. Higher compression means a firmer feel.

FASTENERS

COMMON SENSE FASTENERS

Also called Murphy or turn fasteners, these reliable snaps hold up to five layers of canvas with a spring-tension mechanism. Ideal for marine and upholstery projects, they work on hard or soft surfaces—perfect for dodgers, boom covers, awnings, tarps, and even bags. For neat installation, use the Common Sense Hand Punch to align holes perfectly.

LIFT THE DOT FASTENERS

For heavy-duty applications, Lift-the-DOT fasteners provide serious holding power. They lock securely on three sides and open only by lifting the fourth, which makes them both strong and tamper-resistant. They're a favorite for boat covers, side curtains, and other demanding fabric projects. Use the Lift the Dot Hand Punch to create perfectly aligned holes for the socket to fit into for easy installation.

FASTENERS

ONE WAY FASTENERS

Also known as Pull-the-DOT fasteners, these are designed to release only when pulled in one specific direction. This makes them ideal for high-tension areas, as they can withstand force from three sides without coming undone. Installation requires careful alignment, but the result is a fastener that stays put, even in rough conditions.

All parts are nickel plated brass.
